Beyond question the cheapest and most effective machine of the kind now in use dapted to all grades and classes of ore. This machine has been thoroughly tested for the past two years under a great variety of conditions giving most extraordinay results, far in advance of anything ever be

A recent competitive test made with the Fruc at the Carlisle mine in New Mexico showed an advantage of 30 per cent in favor of the Duncan. The amount saved over the Frue being sufficient to pay the entire cost of the machines nearly every menth in the rear.

The following is an enumeration of its First.—Its cost is not more than half that of any other of equal capacity, and the weight is nearly 1,000 pounds less, thus greatly reducing the cost of transportation BECOND—The expense of acting op in running order is not more than one third that of the Frue, or any other helt machine much less grading and timber work being necessary.

Terms—The expenditure for repair is not more than one-fifth that of any belt machine, and they will last fully three times as long, worning under the same conditions.

FOUNTS—Not more than one-half the space is required—a point of great importance where a considerable number are used.

FIFTH—No special skill and very little care is necessary to operate it.

SINTH—No more water is required than is furnished by the batteries.

SYNNTH—It saves all the amalgam, gold or silver that escapes the batteries, pans or settlers—an invaluable feature, and claimed by no other, making the machine worth TENTE—Great simplicity of construction and small number of wearing parts. The whole machine is comprised in seventeen ricces, only three of which are subject to day special wear, and these can be replaced at a nominal cost. The Frue has 113 pieces and some similar machines many more making a complication of parts that involves constant repair andgreat expense in this way, as welf as in loss of time.
